

Can Astrology Tell You Where To Live?

In astrology, astrocartography is the study of energy in relation to the placement of the planets, and how we feel those energies based on our geographic location. Find out where you should live or travel.

Since we look to the stars to find insights into our love life, career path and finances as well as relationships with family, friends and even our deeper self, it's reasonable to assume that the cosmos can also shed light on the places we are most suited to live or travel to. As an astrologer, one of the most frequently asked questions I receive is about whether people are living in the right place. Luckily, I'm able to answer this question through an astrological technique called astrocartography, also known as astro mapping. Consult our astrologers to know the right path of your life.

Astro Mapping is a tool that uses the energy from your astrology chart and the world at large to find an ideal city, region and country that highlights the most amazing parts of yourself. Through this technique, we can find the best places to live, move or travel to on holiday.

So, How Does Astro Mapping Work?

By looking at certain areas of the birth chart known as the angular houses and the planetary aspects, as well as parans of crossing (astrological regions of the same latitude found on an astrocartography chart), we can find the best place on Earth to visit, live and thrive.

First things first: enter your full birth details (date, year, time, and location) here to create your astrography chart. Once you cast the chart, you'll see listed planetary glyphs (symbols that represent each planet) and houses. Follow the line down to view the locations that are ideal for you. The lines point to a specific region, city or location. You can use a 700-mile radius of a point to find the spot that vibes the most with you.

Importance of the Planets:

Just like the natal chart, understanding planets is important in the astrocartography chart. They dictate the energies of the lines.

Need Guidance in Your Life? Download App and Ask an Astrologer. First Consultation for Free.